“ Larry, Sam and Allesanda,
I'm so sorry to hear Anthea has passed. I spoke to and met her only a few times but she always had such a bright and positive attitude that I really admired. My sincere condolences to your family.

“ Dear Tolomei family:

Haydee and I extend our most profound sympathies at the loss of your mother, a brave warrior against her cancer. We found her to be a wonderful, warm woman, full of hope and optimism, and full of joie d'vivre. She will be sorely missed.

Kind regards,
Stephen and Haydee Stanton

“ To the Tolomei family, I am saddened by the news of Anthea's passing. I went to school with her and I have such fond memories of our time together. We actually took accordion lessons together in elementary school. I laugh remembering how we tried to carry our accordians into class. Anthea was a beautiful person, I will never forget her smile. Prayers for all of you, may you continue to hold her love and memories close to your heart. Judy Grijalva Brown

“ Sam and Allesanda, I was a client of your mothers and am so sorry to hear of her passing. She was a wonderful, wonderful person that I will miss deeply and I only knew her for a few years. As you mention in your beautiful tribute she lit up any room she was in and had such grace and class and good humor. I knew she carried a lot of burdens but you wouldn't know it from her demeanor. She was so good at her job - was more like a vocation and she was genius with looks and style. I have one memory of being in my bedroom with her working on my closet and we started talking about skiing. She told me how much your family loved skiing at one time and then she just stopped and said "If I could tell you one thing it would be to travel and have fun now, don't wait." I think of her saying that often. I am sending prayers and love to your family. Tricia Quinn

“ Sam and Alie; words cannot express what a wonderful gift Anthea was to this earth. She was a beautiful example of beauty and grace. Even during our last lunches and dinners she could always make me laugh at the irony of our cancers. I was honored to share the runway with her and I miss her every day. I know she is pain free and still smiling down at you both. My life has been so enriched by her presence. Sending you both much love and prayers, Lori cook

“ After many years I was fortunate to reconnect with Anthea back in January. I emailed her out of the blue and she sent me a lovely response. I enjoyed the very short time I spent with her. She was so nice and professional and I was very impressed that she remembered me after twenty years. I am so sorry to hear about her passing. My thoughts and prayers go out to the family.

“ Sam and Allesanda, I was a client of your mother's, and I want to express my deepest sympathies to both of you as you mourn her passing. She is one of the warmest, most graceful people I have ever encountered. Every time I met with her she always glowed when she talked about you. She was so proud of you, and it was evident that you brought so much joy to her.

This message comes with much love to you both and to your family. ~ Brandee Marckmann

“ Dear Sam and Alesandra,
I was a client and friend of your mom's for 15 years. Your mom touched me in so many ways. When I think about her, the first thing that comes to mind is how her face lit up when she talked about you. She was so proud! And so much in love with both of you. Your mother was a very kind person, but also very direct. When something didn't look good on me, but I liked it, she'd start by saying something like "that's very nice but would look better on someone with gray hair (I have red hair). If I would persist, she'd mention other reasons I shouldn't wear the outfit. If I persisted, she'd pull out the big guns: "Makes you look fat," she say. She always won.

I've known a lot of people in my life, but your mom is one of the few people whose advice, in fact her very voice, I continue to hear. She was one of a kind, and I shall miss her greatly. Please call upon me if there is ever anything I can do to help you.

I mean it.

With great sadness at your mom's passing and with an offer of friendship and help to you...
