“ I came across this photo that my mother had taken in 1966 when she was in Laos. I did an internet search and was sad to find that Mary Lanziti had passed away. I hope that her family and loved ones find comfort knowing that she had impacted people for the better. My condolences.

“ I met Mary at St. John's at around the time I started dating my husband that I had met there in church 14 years ago. Mary greeted me so joyously when she saw me at church, that it made me feel like a million dollars.

I drove her home from the dentist once when I saw her there and another time when I saw her walking home from Target. I also remember keeping her company in Burger King once until her friends that she was waiting to meet arrived. Even though it has been a few years since I last saw her, I still thought about her and hoped that she was safe.

She looks so pretty in this photo, but I remember her to be just as beautiful in her older years with the way her face would light up with love and kindness.

If there is a service, my husband and I would be honored to attend.

Peace to her and her family.

“ My family became friends of Mary and her son Mark in the late 60's and early 70's when our children attended St John's Catholic school. My wife Janice and Mary both contributed many hours of volunteering together at the school and church. This led to a friendship between our families and Mark became good friends with our two sons Delmar and Jan Schank and was included in many of our out of town trips and home visits along with Mary. I must say that My wife and I truly came to love this women. What a dear person she was and an example of the spirit of God's love for each of us. We as a family thank God that she shared her life with us. In our later years we lost contact with her and Mark. It was that recent article in the Napa Valley Register about the homestead property that triggered so many memories of Mary and Mark. I am sorry to ask this, but we had no idea that Mark had passed, could we ask a family member to call us with the details. My children I am sure had no idea of this either. Our sympathy for this great lost. Respectfully, Delmar F. Schank Sr Ph # 707 224-7085 or delschank@comcast.net

“ My first memory of Mary was when I was a student at St John's School in the early 1990s when she was the "yard lady" during recess and lunch. I remember she was very soft spoken but would make up for that by blowing her whistle loudly when someone was doing something they shouldn't. In later years I got to know her at church and would notice her walking from St John's downtown all the way to her home on Shetler Ave if she missed the bus that she normally took. I offered her rides after church then on and enjoyed our conversations on the way. She was a very kind person. I've missed her brother Jim and I will miss Mary also..

“ Branden, reading this made me smile. Mary was a sweet lady and thank you for your kindness. I know the rides were helpful, but I'm positive your company added extra joy into her life. Thank you.

“ Mary’s love of St. John’s the Baptist School was what I will always remember about her. When she moved away from Napa I received a call at the school from a relative asking where she could buy a red button down sweater like the students wear. She wanted to be able to remember all the students on the playground- the same playground she was a yard duty helper, which she loved so much. She had such a kind soul.

“ You are right—Mary had such love and loyalty towards St. John’s the Baptist School. She received that sweater with such a beautiful smile. She also wore a sweatshirt with pride. Thank you for helping Mary continue her cherished memories of that beloved school.

“ We have known Mary for more than 60 years and can't imagine a more loving, self-giving, innocent and sweet soul! There is no doubt that she is happy with Mark and with God now.

“ Mary appreciated and loved your friendship dearly, especially before she moved away. Thank you for adding so much happiness into her life. She missed you both so much. And yes, Mary is much happier now.
