“ I met Angelo though his son Ed. Mr Ed and I were friends in high school. After high school I moved away from Napa and lost touch with Ed. About 3 or 4 years ago Ed and I reconnected when he came and visited my home in Oregon. I remember Ed unpacking some food he brought up and one package said friend? I asked Ed about it and he said Angelo had put whatever it was (I can't remember now) in his bag to give to me. I remember thinking what a sweetheart that man had to be. Angelo didn't disappoint. I will always appreciate the hospitality he showed not only myself but all my family members. Both my wife and I grew very fond of Angelo and will miss him and our visits very much. We will always cherish our visits over a glass of wine, Italian lunch meat and biscotti. RIP dear friend❤️
